

Stuff we love

words / BRENDAN BRAZIER

Here are our top picks for hot gear and healthy goods we won't be able to live without in 2017.

Pryme Vessyl

Ensure you stay well hydrated throughout the day with this clever Bluetooth-enabled cup. Pryme Vessyl displays your hydration level on your phone in real time. myvessyl.com

Velofix

With Velofix, there's no need to load your bike into your car and drive it to the shop for maintenance or repairs. Velofix brings its fully equipped mobile shop to you, saving you time and money while giving you pro-quality service. velofix.com

Faraday Bicycles

Inspired by classic British touring bikes of the '60s, Faraday builds high-end electric bicycles for the ultimate urban commuter experience. faradaybikes.com

Thrive Foods Direct

Who wants fresh, organic, plant-based, whole-food meals delivered to their home, office or even hotel? Um, everyone. Thrive Foods Direct takes the guesswork out of vegan meal planning, which is especially helpful if you're transitioning to a plant-based diet. thrivefoodsdirect.com

SOLO

This ultra-efficient, single-seat commuter car has a surprisingly large amount of cargo space, quick acceleration, unrivaled maneuverability—and only three wheels.

Designed and built in Canada, SOLO is coming to the US in mid-2017. electrameccanica.com

Polar M600

This Android Wear-powered smartwatch is ideal for tracking your active life, from running to swimming (yes, it's waterproof). The Polar M600 syncs with your Google calendar, sends you reminders of upcoming appointments and receives texts. polar.com

NICORA Shoes

Beautifully designed by third-generation shoemaker Stephanie Nicora, these top-quality vegan shoes are handmade in the US from sustainable and recycled materials. What more do we need to say? nicorashoes.com @

